just tokens? A report on the experience of Victim/Survivors of sexual assault when making application for Crimes Compensation 1997

This research presents the victim/survivor's experience when seeking compensation under the Victorian Criminal Injuries Compensation Act 1983 and was conducted over a period of seven years. The report examined the processes involved in determination of the award, the outcomes for the applicant and her own assessment of the quality of the whole experience. This is a victim/survivor's perspective.
