INDEX OF ARTICLES

ISSUE 23 - 2011
The road to the ‘national plan to reduce violence against women’: Foucauldian feminist reflections  Irene Morgan
Feminism in schools: exploring the prevention of sexual assault in school communities  Lesley Hyde, Renee Imbesi, Emma Price, Susan Sharrock and Toltu Tufa
Older women reconnecting after sexual violence through group work  Jill Duncan and Robyn Mason
‘You’re only there cos you’re a woman’: a study of the experiences of women who co-facilitate men’s behaviour change group programs  Jenn Apps and Raelleen Gregory

ISSUE 22 - 2010
Canvassing the emotions: women, creativity and mental health in context making an exhibition  Sally Northfield
Abused women’s double jeopardy: interacting with law enforcement on issues of intimate partner violence  Marika Guggisberg & Colleen Fisher
Supporting safe and healthy relationship choices: a peer education approach  Margot Rawsthorne & Sonia Hoffman
Building relationships: an example of integrating family violence programs which support women and children  Raelleen Gregory, Rosemary Green & Michael Brandenburg

ISSUE 21 - 2009
Fifty (three) ways to leave your lover: the pathways women use to leave a male partner who assaults them  Shirley Patton
Straw women: the role of press representations in re-instituting silence and violence  Melinda McPherson
Prostitution and human rights: making the critical link  Renee Armstrong
Community development or service integration: the experience of the New South Wales strategy to reduce violence against women  Robyn Edwards

ISSUE 20 - 2008
Breaking silences: telling stories about family photographs  Karen Crinall
Intimate partner violence: a significant risk factor for female suicide  Marika Guggisberg
Elder abuse and family violence: snapshots of violence against women  Jill Duncan
Violence against new mothers in Indonesia: cultural context, disclosure and the experience of unwanted sex  Sari Andajani-Sutjahjo and Linda Rae Bennett

ISSUE 19  -  2007  (Women’s Right to Choose … Again)

Pregnancy/abortion counselling: False providers, mandatory counselling, ultrasound & ‘cooling off’  Dr Susie Allanson

The violence of misinformation: Compulsory ‘independent counselling’ and the current abortion debate  Brooke Calo

Ignorant fools? The construction of women’s decision making in recent abortion debates in Australia  Angella Duvnjak & Barbara Buttfield

I know it’s selfish, but …: public language, unplanned pregnancy decision-making in an anti-choice landscape  Patricia Hayes

Reproductive refusal: not all choices are equal  Dr Denise Lievore

Making good: A service response to women dealing with unplanned pregnancy and abortion as a result of sexual assault  Annarella Hardiman

Still not accepted: When women with intellectual disabilities choose to become mothers  Brenda Burgen

Hardly her choice: A history of abortion law reform in Victoria  Dr Robyn Gregory

Plus special inclusions

Lost: illegal abortion stories: a synopsis  Jo Wainer

Cross Party Pregnancy Counselling Bill: proposed legislation
Second reading speech to the Senate  Senator Natasha Stott Despoja

ISSUE 18  -  2005-2006

Churches as partners in institutionalised abuse: disarming the ‘Bible-bashers’  Fiona D Hill

Multiple jeopardy: domestic violence and the notion of cumulative risk for women in refugee camps  Eileen Pittaway and Susan Rees

Changing men: best practice in sexual violence education  Michael Flood

Feminists researching domestic violence perpetrator programs: improving women’s and children’s safety or misplaced effort?  Donna Chung and Lana Zannettino

Dangerous drink spiking archetypes  Sheri Lawson and Liz Olle

Journey of change: exploring women’s experiences of mental health care  Margaret Brooks

A gendered invitation?  Sue Pollock, Kylie Agliias and Anne Stubley

ISSUE 17  -  2004-2005  Remembering Wendy Weeks

Tributes
Remembering Wendy  Kate Gilmore
Activist  Past and present CASA House staff
Colleague  Ros Thorpe and Jane Thomson
Critical friend  Joan Beckwith
Educator  Carolyn Noble
Writer  Lesley Hoatson, Jane Dixon and Annie Carrol
Mentor  Rhonda Cumberland
Teacher  Deb Walsh
Working against violence in Canada  Marge Reitsma-Street
Vale Wendy  Mandy Press

Articles
Working with women who have experienced child sexual assault: unsettling orthodoxies  Michelle Fraser
Feminist activism in Northern Territory women’s services  Debra Miles
The disappearing ‘f’ word: feminism and Australian government violence against women policies  Mayet Costello

ISSUE 16  -  2004-2005
Collaborative social work practice in opposing paradigms: Issues to emerge from a sexual assault and mental health project  Christine Morley
Are feminist services only for non-indigenous women?  Sarah Hartridge
Fathers’ rights activists: Does their behaviour stand up to scrutiny?  M C Dunn
Fathers’ rights activists and public policy  Trish Wilson
Rethinking Profeminist Men’s Behaviour Change Programs  Bob Pease

Fact Sheets
Fact Sheet #1: The myth of false accusations of child abuse  Michael Flood
Fact Sheet #2: The myth of women’s false accusations of domestic violence and misuse of protection orders  Michael Flood

ISSUE 15  -  2003-2004  (SPECIAL RURAL EDITION)
Rural cultures, domestic violence and stories from a rural region  Sarah Wendt & Brian Cheers
Public secrets/public pain: difficulties encountered by victim/survivors of sexual abuse in rural communities  S Caroline Taylor
Working with survivors of sexual assault: attitudes and beliefs of rural health and welfare workers  Margaret Radcliffe, Rosemary Green & Suzanne McLaren
Extract from ‘Enough’  Patricia Hughes (courtesy Spinifex Press)

ISSUE 14  -  JULY 2003
The psychological impact of sexual slavery of trafficked women: parallels with torture, sexual abuse and domestic violence  Felicity Rousseaux
Sexual assault, criminal justice and law and order  Julie Stubbs
Don’t believe the hype: young women’s experience of male violence in the ‘Girl Power’ era  Joanne Baker
Managing violence? Feminist management practice in a domestic violence service  Alison Bartlett, Rosemary Campbell, Louise Whitaker
Culture, social discourse and domestic violence: what is the connection?
Carolyn Noble and Cathy Bettman

The self-confessed perpetrator and the Australian legal system that sanctioned the crime ‘Debra’

ISSUE 13 - 2002-2003

Reconstituting the ‘relevance of women’s sexual histories in rape trials
Melanie Heenan

Single mothers, social policy and gendered violence
Elspeth McInnes

Engaging men: strategies and dilemmas in violence prevention education among men
Michael Flood

Surrendering the night! the seduction of victim blaming in drug and alcohol facilitated sexual assault prevention strategies
Sheri Lawson

A simple solution
Ludo McFerran

Validating moving on: reflections of women nurse academics’ experiences with violence and subsequent healing
Nel Glass

ISSUE 12 - JULY 2002 (SPECIAL INTERNATIONAL EDITION)

Building up a trans-regional east/west community for crisis centres in the Barents region
Aino Saarinen (Finland) and Olga Liapounova (Russia)

Domestic violence and the welfare regime in Norway
Gunn Strand Hutchinson (Norway)

Abused women in the Norwegian welfare system
Wenche Jonassen (Norway)

A Norwegian woman tells how she survived domestic violence
Siv Oltedal (Norway)

Violence against women and responses to it in the Russian Federation
Raisa Danilova, Olga Liapounova and Maria Novikova (Russia)

Legislation, crisis services and the shelter program in the United States of America
Celeste A Jones and Pamela Brown (USA)

ISSUE 11 - 2001-2002

Preface
Once were warriors
Di Lucas

Articles

Questioning domestic violence orthodoxies: challenging the social construction of women as victims and as being responsible for stopping male violence
Donna Chung

Interpersonal violence services in Western Australia: politics, policies and practices
Maggie Woodhead, Pamela Weatherill, Elizabeth Reid Boyd, Lekkie Hopkins, Suellen Murray

Access and equity in services against sexual violence
Wendy Weeks

Bars Behind Bars
Sisters Inside

Responding to heterosexist hate: a gender critique of coalitionist strategies in New South Wales
Nicole Asquith
ISSUE 10  -  JULY 2001

Women and hate crime: a useful political strategy? Moira Carmody

Vietnamese and Spanish Speaking Women’s Views About Intimate Examinations and Sexually Inappropriate Medical Practices Heather Gridley, Kelley Johnson, Susan Moore, Kerrie Taylor, Thinh Hoang and Patricia Papis

Sexual Assault Crisis Care: Making the most of rural partnerships Robyn Mason

To screen or not to screen – is this the right question? Quality care, intervention and women’s agency in health care responses to partner violence and abuse Angela Taft

Domestic Violence in Pregnancy: Work in Progress Deb Walsh

ISSUE 9  -  DECEMBER 2000

Challenging Sexual Violence: Social Justice Agendas in Groupwork Practice Trish Quinn

Connections and Cultural Difference: Women, Groupwork and Surviving Domestic Violence Kate Flannery, Jude Irwin and Angela Lopes

‘I wanted to be able to talk about it without being judged’ Issues Confronting Mothers of Child Sexual Assault Survivors Wendy Foote

Surviving Lesbian Abuse: Empowerment groups for education and support Karen Paroissien and Penny Stewart

Activism in Action: The Women’s Incest Survivors Network Felicity Martin

Reflecting on Focus Group Research: Women Working with Violence Jan Mason and Carolyn Noble

Women, Community Artswork and Violence: The Power of Collectivity Daphne Cazalet and Mary Lane

A Women’s Community Garden – A Small Step Towards a Future of Peace? Sue Perkins and Robyn Lynn

ISSUE 8  -  JULY 2000

Gender Politics and Research: Male and Female Violence in Intimate Relationships Dale Bagshaw and Donna Chung

Violence as another name: the use of human rights discourse by domestic violence and women’s crisis centres in South East Asia Caroline Lambert and Sharon Pickering

Violence, Biological Determinism and the Sex Work Industry Sarah Lantz

Family Law Mediation: Compromising Justice for Women? Claire Downey

Political Issues in Working with Men in the Human Services Bob Pease

ISSUE 7  -  DECEMBER 1999

Breaking the Silence: Nardine Women’s Refuge and the Politicisation of Domestic Violence in Western Australia during the 1980s Suellen Murray

Violence Against Women with Disabilities – An Overview of the Literature Keran Howe

Sterilisation of young women with intellectual disabilities: ‘best Interests’ and the ‘proper’ woman in legal analysis Brodie Woodland
Listening: A tool for minimising violence against women with intellectual disabilities  Rea Dennis

ISSUE 6 - JULY 1999
Prosecuting Rape under International Law: Implications for Australian Jurisdictions  Michelle Jarvis
Do Female Asylum Seekers Attain Social Citizenship in Australia? A Critical Examination  Felicity Hamilton
Unearthing the Realities of Human Lives: A Critical Analysis of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights  Dianne Rokvic
Flowers or Sparks? Indian Women and Violence  Indrani Ganguly
Considering the Needs of Children who are Exposed to Domestic Violence: A Feminist Perspective for Practitioners  Heather Fraser

ISSUE 5 - DECEMBER 1998
Sites of Women’s Citizenship? Australian Women’s-specific Services  Wendy Weeks
The Slippery Slide of Women’s Refuge Funding 1970s - 1990s: the New South Wales Experience  Roselyn Melville
Women’s Interests and the Australian State: Regulation, Governance and Feminist Services  Liz Orr
Meeting Women’s Needs: Innovative Service Models Responding to Women Escaping Violence  Nikki Stanes
The Evolution of Organisational Responses and Models in Victorian Sexual Assault Services in the 1990s  Annarella Hardiman

ISSUE 4 - JULY 1998 (SPECIAL RURAL EDITION)
The Way It Is and The Way It Will Be (Interagency service provision in rural and remote South Australia for adults who have experience recent rape or sexual assault)  Jodie Sloan
There’s No Full-On Rape Here: Confronting Violence Against Women in a Country Town  Laurene Dietrich and Robyn Mason
Only a Domestic … A Rural Perspective on Police Responses to Violence Against Women  Deb Nicholson
The Internet and Violence Against Women…  Nadine Cameron BSW
It’s Different in the Country…  Jacinta Ermacora, South Western Centre Against Sexual Assault

Papers from WESNET National Conference
The Northern Territory Domestic Violence Strategy - All paper, no infrastructure  Alison Edwards
DV Intervention Project – ACT  Dennise Simpson
Legal Cuts  Pamela Foster and Sue Pinckham
Providing Protection, Choices and Opportunities to Women and Children Escaping Violence  Jenny Macklin
National Directions: how to move our decisions forward  Judy Moylan, MP
Electronic communication for women - the Internet and the Intranet

Louise Enders

ISSUE 3 - NOVEMBER 1997

Consent in sexual offences cases: The continuing construction  Terese Henning

Women, Children and Domestic Violence  Jude Irwin and Marie Wilkinson

Marital Rape: Conflicting Constructions of Reality  Patricia Easteal

Betrayal of the Innocents  Shannon Taylor

ISSUE 2 - JUNE 1997

Accommodating Diversity: A NESB Focussed Women’s Refuge Model

Vasilka Vicki Pateras

Women’s Work Against Violence: Community Responses in a Rural Setting

Helen La Nauze and Shirley Rutherford

Women and Mental Health: Policy Service Delivery and Practice Issues

Jane L Hodges

ISSUE 1 - NOVEMBER 1996  (Out of Print – Available electronically)

Battered Women Syndrome: Advancing Women’s Interests of Reinforcing Orthodoxy  Julie Stubbs

Neglecting Mothers: A Feminist Analysis of the Victorian Child Protection Service  Elsie L’Huillier

Women from the Horn of Africa: Issues with Policy, Service Delivery and Practice  Angie Sacco

Maintaining Confidentiality between Sexual Assault Complainants and their Counsellors  Angela Jones

Naming Violence as a Gender Issue: Victimisation, Blame and Responsibility  Bob Pease